KYLIE BARTLETT

Kylie Bartlett has always believed in making quantum leaps. It's a life philosophy that has taken the Quantum LEAP founder from troubled teen, to successful businesswoman, with leaps along the way into marriage and motherhood.

The first big leap in Kylie's life came when the Year 11 drop-out decided to abandon a troubled home life and run away with only the clothes on her back and $200 she'd managed to scrape together, in her pocket.

Three years later, 21-year-old Kylie took her first leap into the business world by opening her own café. The venture proved so successful that she managed to buy her first home by the time she was only 24. Not bad for a girl who never finished high-school!

Other business ventures soon followed, including a bistro, a restaurant franchise, a freelance training consultancy business, a publishing business and then, in 1999, on to Pinnacle Training Solutions a corporate training and consultancy business.

In eight years, the training company Kylie launched single-handedly had grown to become one of Australia's leading corporate training companies. The clients, both national and international, kept coming despite Kylie's lack of official academic qualifications. But, as she continues to tell clients, her journey has afforded her a degree in communication, a Masters in motivation and a PhD in life.

Kylie has accreditations in many world renowned science and psychometric profiling tools, including the Myer Briggs Personality Typology (MBTI), Enneagram Personality Typology, DiSC, and Human Synergistics' products. She is also a Master Practitioner and Trainer in Neuro Linguistic Programming (NLP), and a passionate public speaker.

In September 2007, after 8 successful years, Kylie decided to sell Pinnacle Training Solution and launch Quantum Leap Corporation, and in 2009 The Web Celeb TV Show. The Web Celeb TV Show is dedicated to helping entrepreneurs create buzz, build a brand and get celebrity results in their business

Kylie has appeared on numerous Australian television and radio broadcasts including, 'The Today Show, 9AM Show, 3MP, 2UB', appeared in many Australian newspapers and magazine publications including, 'The Sunday Herald Sun, Dynamic Business Magazine, Australian Banking and Finance Magazine,' to name a few.

Kylie is an entrepreneur and international public speaker; she combines substance with humour to inspire, motivate and serve as a catalyst in inspiring others on how they can achieve outstanding success and results in life.
